Dear friends,

Recently in a radio program with parapsychologists experts I heard to say that in Miami University there is a Laboratory of Parapsychology. I would like to know what can you tell us about that and discoveries of this laboratory -if it is really.

Thank in advance,

Mercedes Quintana
Executive Director

Dear Mercedes Quintana:

In response to your letter of 7 August 1992, we can tell you that we have never heard of a Laboratory of Parapsychology at the University of Miami, and that the University of Miami does not enjoy any particular notoriety, either locally, here in Florida, or nationally, in the United States as a whole, as a center of parapsychological research.

We did telephone the Department of Psychology at the University of Miami, and we were told that they do offer a single course in parapsychology. There would be nothing unusual or remarkable in that, as most universities in the United States probably offer similar courses.

We hope this answers your question, and we wish you well in our common efforts to combat pseudoscience and irrationality.

Sincerely,

James Lett, Ph.D.
Executive Council
